2018 Home Health Conditions of Participation Interpretive Guide

Webinar #T5023

DATE AND TIME

March 1, 2018
12:30 - 2:00 p.m. CT

OVERVIEW

The long-awaited revised home health conditions of participation were effective January 13, 2018. The importance of knowing the content and expectations for accreditation surveys is imperative whether your agency has deemed status through an accreditation organization or a survey by your state agency. This 90-minute webinar will provide a review of key aspects of the final version of the interpretive guidelines for the home health conditions of participation (HH CoP), the first changes in HH COP since 1996.

TARGET AUDIENCE

This program is intended for home CEO, CNO, health managerial staff, supervisors, compliance officers, quality improvement staff, clinical staff, medical directors, legal counsel and any other interested parties.

OBJECTIVES

1. Discuss the expanded contents of patient rights.
2. Identify extended interdisciplinary comprehensive assessment content.
3. Explain the comprehensive interdisciplinary focus on developing and updating individualized care plans.
4. Describe the changes in conditions related to professional services.
5. Discuss the new requirements for home health aide assignments, care plans and supervision.
6. Explain the organization and administration of service with focus on branch office requirements and the role of the governing body.

FACULTY

Judy Adams, RN, BSN, HCS-D, HCS-O, COS-C
Trainer, President
Adams Home Care Consulting

Judy Adams has been involved in home care and hospice services for more than 30 years, both as a service provider and later as a consultant and educator. She has served in nearly every position possible in a certified home health agency. For the last 15 plus years she has served as a consultant and educator for small and large home health agencies across the country in a variety of community settings. She is nationally certified in ICD-10-CM coding and in OASIS, home health's standardized assessment tool. In addition to providing onsite consultation activities, Ms. Adams has contributed to countless articles and manuals related to home health and hospice operational and clinical operations especially in the areas of diagnosis coding, interpretation of OASIS items, and regulatory compliance. She has no real or perceived conflicts of interest that relate to this presentation.
